It is important to understand the nature of Cloud9 Fabrics: All of the cotton used in our base fabrics is grown and harvested to the GOTS (Global Organic Textile Standards). Our whitening technique is non-chlorinated, and therefore results in an off-white shade for the base fabrics. All printed dyes are OEKA-TEX certified which, like almost any wash-fast dyes, can fade with repeated washings especially when one does not adhere to the recommended washing instructions. Please visit our website at www.cloud9fabrics.com to learn more about how these methods and certifications benefit the handlers as well as the planet. For more information on the GOTS please visit www.global-standard.org.

Due to the eco-friendly treatment of organic fibers and fabrics, some natural imperfections may exist in the fabric. While some may perceive this as appealing, others may not, so we highly recommend inspecting the fabric thoroughly before cutting. No refunds or credits can be applied once the fabric has been cut. Please take this into consideration before purchasing. We encourage you to contact us immediately in the event that you find significant flaws.

Cloud9 Fabrics cannot guarantee that all prints will be available for delivery when you place your order. If you are concerned about having a particular print in your assortment, please communicate your needs as far in advance as possible, so we can fulfill your orders completely.

There is the possibility of color shifts with each new run of a pattern. To ensure the best color matches, bolts should be purchased from the same run.

Cloud9 Fabrics stock fabrics cannot be made exclusive to any product lines. Our goal is to make organic fabrics readily available to everyone. For that reason, we cannot endorse any one company/product line for the use of our fabrics. If you are interested in exclusive prints, please contact us at info@cloud9fabrics.com. Any products made from Cloud9 Fabrics are the sole responsibility of the said company and Cloud9 Fabrics cannot be held liable for any legal action taken due to the product. Please note that Cloud9 Fabrics are not intended for children's sleepwear as it violates the US Consumer Products Safety Commission's Children's Sleepwear Regulations.

Buyer agrees to not advertise prices below SRP for a duration of 30 days past the release date (if given) of a specified item or 30 days past receipt of goods if no release date is given. Offering Pre-Orders through your store or online store is not allowed, all sales must commence on the release date (if given). While we do not discriminate against the use of eBay or Etsy as a sales venue, stores who utilize these and other similar sites to sell goods for significantly less than SRP risk termination of their wholesale account. Our SRPs are determined in such a way to allow retailers a fair profit.

Cloud9 Fabrics reserves the right to limit sales and to refuse orders.

Cloud9 Fabrics ships UPS only. We are happy to ship using your own account information that you provided above. In the event that you do not have a UPS account, we will ship using our account, plus an additional handling fee. We insure all shipments.

SHIPMENTS OUTSIDE OF THE US: We encourage you to order through our international distributors, a list of which can be found on our website at www.cloud9fabrics.com/distributors.htm. If purchases are made directly from Cloud9 Fabrics, all shipping fees for international orders will be handled by the purchaser. Due to the complexity of the process there will be additional handling fees for these direct international sale transactions. Please contact us prior to placing an order so that we may communicate these fees to you.

By my signature below, I authorize Cloud9 Fabrics to make such inquires and charges necessary for the processing of my wholesale orders. I have read all the information included within and agree to the terms.
